

LOCAL & PERSONAL

P. T. A. HAS LAST MEETING.

The Hondo Parent-Teacher Association convened for its last meeting for the year 1932-1933, in the high school auditorium Monday afternoon, May 8th. A successful and delightful program rounded off one of the most successful years in the history of the local organization, bringing to a satisfactory conclusion the aims set and achieved by the Club in that time.

The Boy Scouts under the direction of their Scoutmaster, Prof. M. L. McDowell, went through Scout formalities for the entertainment of the assembly. Included in the scout program were explanations of the signs of handclaps and a demonstration of ways to carry the disabled.

Two musical numbers followed, first a piano solo by Miss Eloise Kollman and then a vocal solo by Miss Rose Senne.

The Fourth Grade concluded with a health program, under the direction of Miss Emma Hodges.

Business was dispatched immediately after the program, with the reading of the minutes and the treasurer's report. The statement for the year was as follows:

Receipts for 1932-1933 $92.22
Disbursements for 1932-1933 51.96
Balance $40.26

Mrs. P. C. Jagge, who is in charge of the sale of pencils, gave a humorous talk on the success of the sale and followed up with a canvass of the audience. Quite a number of the pencils were sold at the time.

Prof. J. G. Barry addressed brief remarks to the Association, during which he thanked the parents and the teachers for their cooperation during the past school term.

The Health Program and its success was the subject of an interesting talk by Mrs. E. J. Leinweber, Chairman of the County Health Committee. She announced that the goal of the Committee had been the immunization of 1600 children under 12 years, but had fallen short of the mark with a little less than 1400, which is a splendid record. Thirty-nine children of pre-school age were given physical examinations as part of the summer round-up program, it was reported. Mrs. Leinweber announced that the Health Committee would not meet during the summer months, but would convene the second Monday in September.

The club book was awarded the Fourth Grade, which had 17 representatives at the meeting.

Mrs. A. C. Thalman and her social committee served delicious refreshments of sandwiches and iced tea.

The president, Mrs. O. A. Fly, requests that all parents and friends attend the Medina County Council which meets in the Hondo High School auditorium, May 13, Saturday. The local P. T. A. is the host. A splendid program is assured.

Wednesday's meeting of the Monthly Luncheon Club was fairly well attended and an hour was very agreeably spent by those present. No business of special importance came up for disposal. These meetings are held monthly now and at the next one, the second Wednesday in June, a representative of the San Antonio Public Service Co. will be present as the invited guest of the Club. The Public Service Company supplies Hondo with both electric current and ice and has recently voluntarily reduced the price on both.

Mrs. J. W. Ulbrich and daughters, Miss Lois Ulbrich and Mrs. Marguerite Newcomb of Devine, and two little grandchildren, Jimmy and Barbara Lou Vaughn, and Mr. Fred Bowman motored to Carlsbad, Texas, last Friday, where they spent the week-end visiting Mrs. Ulbrich's other daughter, Mrs. R. S. Vaughn. Mrs. Vaughn, who is remembered as Miss Lillian Ulbrich, has been a patient at the hospital there for the past five weeks, and her friends will be glad to know that she is improving satisfactorily.

We have been asked to announce that the Seniors of Our Lady of the Lake College, San Antonio, Texas, will broadcast over WOAI at 4:30 Sunday, May 14, Mother's Day. The program is a tribute to the Mothers of the students of Our Lady of the Lake College and will feature songs and speeches in keeping with the beautiful sentiment surrounding Mother's Day. Parents of these College Women as well as friends are invited to tune in on WOAI, San Antonio, Texas, at 4:30 p. m. on Sunday May 14, Mothers' Day.

Mrs. B. R. Eichenroht of San Antonio came out Sunday on a visit of several days' duration with her parents, Judge and Mrs. L. J. Brucks. Mrs. Eichenroht's sister, Miss Genevieve Brucks is a member of the graduating class of Hondo High School and is a member of the cast of the class play, "Girl-Shy" to be presented tonight.

Sunrise bread is not delivered 150 miles from home therefore it does not need any Bleaching or Stay-Fresh powders in order to keep it spongy. These sharp acid powders are injuring the tissues of your stomach—especially on the tender stomachs of children. Take the hint in time as you will never regret it. TRADES DAY CROWD ENTERTAINED.

The crowd gathered for Hondo's monthly Trades Day drawing Wednesday, May 10, was entertained with a regular musical broadcast, a feature sponsored by Liberty Mills, millers of Heart's Delight flour, of San Antonio. Previous to the drawing, the Bob Skiles orchestra, better known over the radio as the Heart's Delight Millers, gave one selection, an arrangement of "The Eyes of Texas", and promised to entertain the audience with more musical numbers after the drawing. Those familiar with the Millers' program over the radio and a large group of new friends of the orchestra remained to listen and enjoy the popular selections rendered.

The drawing was dispatched in the usual pleasant manner by Prof. W. N. Saathoff and the following were winners of valuable cash awards: W. C. Allen, Mrs. Jack Ulbrich, Miss Adele Bendele, Mrs. Nora Bendele, E. Leinweber and Gus Muennink. Hondo's next Trades Day will be held on Wednesday, June 14.

COUNTY COUNCIL P. T. A. MEETING.

The County Council Parent-Teacher Associations will meet at the Hondo High School tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Besides the regular formal program, State Superintendent L. A. Woods will deliver an address.

All who can attend will have both a profitable and enjoyable evening. See the program elsewhere in this paper.

LUTHERAN LADIES ENTERTAINED.

The Lutheran Ladies Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. Ben Oefinger on Wednesday afternoon, May 3. A chapter from Scripture was read by the president, Mrs. Oefinger. Fourteen members answered roll call, and a short business meeting was held.

We were glad to have the following visitors: Mrs. Theo. Streng and little daughter of San Antonio, Mrs. Hanson of Louisiana, Mrs. Hummel and Miss Renata Wurzbach of Cliff, Mrs. H. V. Haass, Mrs. August Schmidt, Mrs. Henry Batot, Jr., Mrs. Fritz Leinweber, and the Misses Irene Mechler, Dorothy Grube and Alice Muennink.

Dainty refreshments of ice cream and cake were served during the social hour.

Mrs. Alice Reinhart invited the ladies to meet with her on June 7.

SCHOLASTICS LOSE.

The following shows the scholastic enumeration of Medina County for the year 1933-34 as compared with 1932-33.

	33-34	32-33	G. L.

AN OLD-FASHIONED MOTHER.

"An Old-Fashioned Mother" is a parable of a mother's love triumphant over the ingratitude and neglect of her children, and is arranged as a drama in three acts. The play will be presented by the Castville Lutheran League next Tuesday night, May 16. Program will be found elsewhere in this issue.

The cast includes Deborah Underhill, "Aunt Deb", a blessed old saint in Israel, the widow of a Deacon and the mother of four boys and two girls. All of the children, however, have married and moved away with the exception of John and Charley. John is the youngest and the idol of his mother's heart. He is led astray by evil companions. Jeremiah Gosling, a comical country boy always trying to swap something. Miss Lamizy Loving Custard, the romantic old maid who is anxious to recite her original poetry. Gloriana, the faithful hired help. Enoch Rone, a tramp. The village choir, led by the Widder Bill Pendle, who is the village gossip, and her daughter, the mischievous Sukey. Brother Jonah Quackenbush, stingy and self-righteous. Isabel Simpsett, Charley's fiancée. Quintus Todd, the country sheriff.

This play although sentimental, is also very humorous.

MARRIED.

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the New Fountain Methodist Church, at 3 P. M. Sunday, April 30, 1933, when Miss Eva Lou Bailey became the bride of Mr. Walton Sischer, both of San Antonio. Rev. E. W. Dechert, pastor of the church, read the impressive marriage service. The only attendant was Mr. Merle Perkins of San Antonio.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Bailey of San Antonio, is a granddaughter of Mr. Tom McCall and a niece of Mrs. Isaac Wilson of Hondo. She has many friends here, having lived in Hondo with her parents when a small child and having visited her relatives here many times since moving to San Antonio to make her home.

This paper joins in extending best wishes and congratulations to the happy couple.

THURSDAY BRIDGE CLUB.

The ladies of the Thursday Bridge Club and several guests composed the personnel of a charming bridge last Thursday afternoon, with Mrs. L. E. Heath extending the hospitality. Three tables were arranged for bridge. Wild flowers were used in decorations, the predominating blossoms being huge purple thistles.

High score prize was won by Mrs. E. J. Leinweber and second high by Mrs. O. B. Taylor. Guest prize was presented Mrs. F. H. Schweers.

Cool and tempting refreshments were served.

Those present were Mesdames F. H. Schweers, Brewer, Barnitz Carle, O. B. Taylor, W. H. Smith, H. J. Meyer, Earl Starnes, L. J. Brucks, Horace Bradley, E. J. Leinweber, O. H. Miller and J. M. Finger, and the hostess, Mrs. Heath.

JUNIOR-SENIOR DINNER.

The Junior Class of Yancey High School entertained the Seniors and faculty with a dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Faseler, Saturday evening, May 6, 1933.

The dining room was appropriately decorated with pink and white streamers and pink and white roses, the class colors and flowers.

Superintendent E. H. Stendebach acted as toastmaster, and between courses he called on the Seniors and some of the Juniors to make speeches.

The following menu was served:
Pressed chicken
Creamed potatoes
Combination vegetable salad
Hot rolls
Strawberry ice cream
Iced tea
Olives
Mints

SENIOR CLASS PLAY.

The Senior Class of the Hondo High School presents its class play at the High School Auditorium tonight. The play is a three-act comedy drama, entitled "Girl-Shy", and promises to afford all who attend a pleasant evening's entertainment.

The young people representing the several characters have made careful preparation for their respective parts and now they will appreciate your presence at their play. The proceeds will be used to take care of the expenses of the commencement program.

Elsewhere will be found the program which will give you an idea of the treat that awaits you.

Remember the date and hour, 8 o'clock P. M., Friday, May 12th.

BAPTIST CHURCH NOTES.

A program, suitable for Mother's Day, will be presented at the Baptist church on next Sunday, the 14th. Special music and an address by the Pastor. The Sunday School will be held at the usual hour, 10 A. M. You are cordially invited to worship with us.

At 7 P. M. Mr. J. G. Barry of the Hondo High School will address the Senior Young People's Union. You are also invited to join in this service. The Pastor will be away, preaching the Baccalaureate sermon for the High School of Potet at the evening hour, hence the regular services for the evening will be dispensed with.

The Pastor.

P. T. A. COUNCIL SPEAKER.

HON. L. A. WOODS

State Superintendent of Public Instruction.

Prof. Woods will deliver the principal address before the Medina County Parent-Teacher Council at the High School Auditorium tomorrow at 2 o'clock P. M. Everyone invited to hear him.

LAST CALL TO DO OUR PART.

Austin, Texas, May 8.—Definite results are beginning to be obtained in the campaign to raise Texas' share of the deficit of the Democratic National Campaign in 1932. $75,000, or nearly 10% of the National Committee's deficit was assigned to the Texas organization directed by Roy Miller and Senator Margie Neal, of which Frank Scofield is Director of Finance.

The best showing to date has been made in the Sixteenth Congressional District, which is represented by Representative Ewing Thomason. W. F. Boggers, Committee member from Del Rio, has remitted the quota in full for Val Verde, his home County, and the counties of Kenedy, Edwards and Jeff Davis. The amounts allotted to each county were on the basis of a dime for every Democratic vote cast in each county.

Navarro County, for which A. A. Allison is Finance Chairman, is the first of the larger counties to have its quota guaranteed. The Democratic organization there was given a quota of $800.00, of which more than $700 has been raised and the balance pledged. Hood County was the first County in the 12th District to complete its quota, represented by Representative Fritz Lanham. In the 11th District, Bosque County has practically completed its quota, and the Chairman of several other counties in the District say that the amount expected of them is in sight.

Some seventy counties in all have notified Scofield that they are nearing the completion of their task. Results in Dallas, Harris, and other of the counties having the largest population, have not been satisfactory. Scofield stated, but with the improvement in business conditions the State Headquarters believe that the campaign will be successful.

County Chairmen are being urged to remit all sums raised by them by May 15th, at which time a substantial amount from Texas has been promised to Chairman Farley.

Pursuant to the above, whatever collections have been made by the 15th will be remitted by us on that date. If you are able to pay do not let dissatisfaction over the present seeming indifference of our party's higher-ups to the wishes of the local Democracy keep you from doing your part. Remember there is another day.

Don't wait; let us have your contribution now.

FLETCHER DAVIS,

County Chairman Democratic Executive Committee of Medina County.

O. E. S. OFFICERS ELECTED.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

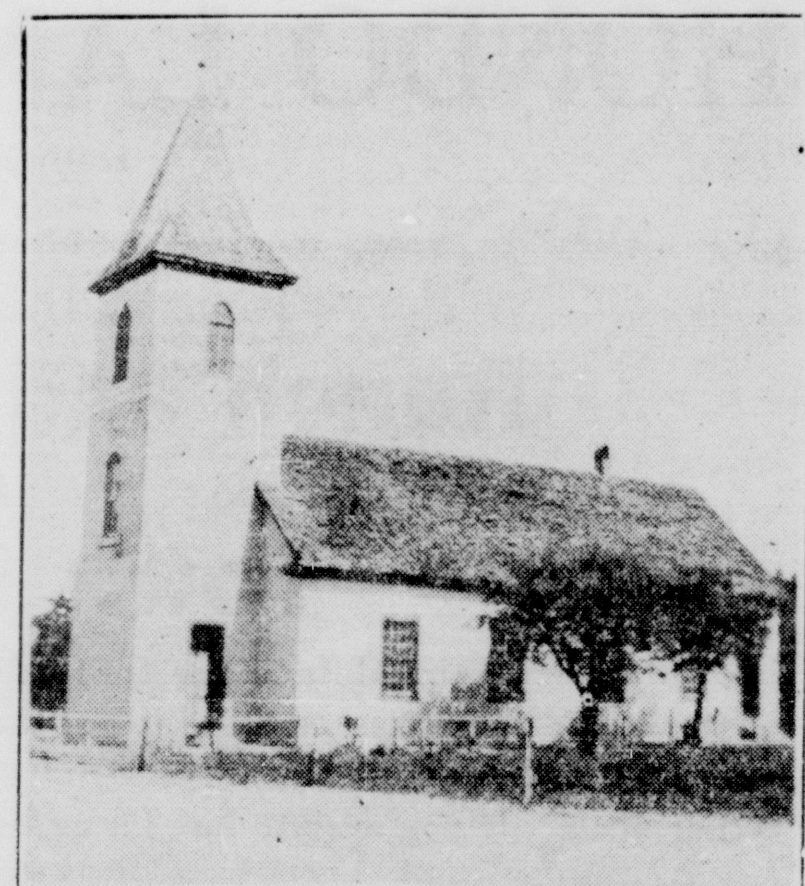

We believe that the Word of God is the only trustworthy guide in matters of faith and life. For this reason all that is truly good and beneficial to you is found there. The Lutheran church makes no apology for standing "four-square" upon the Bible. We know that we can offer the human soul everything true, wholesome, necessary for faith to live by and to die by, because God offers it in His divine Word. "Beware of false prophets."

Divine service Sunday at 10:30 A. M. in German. A brief report on the Convention will follow the sermon. Sunday School at 9:15. A special night service sponsored by the Luther League at 7:30. Everyone is invited.

New Fountain Church Will Celebrate Diamond Jubilee

The Methodist Church, South, at New Fountain

The Methodist parsonage at New Fountain.

REV. E. W. DECHERT.
Pastor of the Methodist Church at New Fountain.

Hondo, Texas, May 6.—The Methodist Church, South, of the New Fountain Community is making elaborate preparations to celebrate the diamond jubilee June 3, 4, 5. Rev. E. W. Dechert, pastor in charge, announces that it will be a home coming for all the ministers, elders and members that had affiliation with the church, irrespective of where they now live.

The church was organized in June, 1858, with Rev. J. G. Schaper as the first minister. Thirty-eight ministers have served this charge since its organization. Those still living are Rev. Robert Moerner, Mason; Rev. F. J. Koch, Houston; Rev. Gus Muennink, Hondo; Rev. Fritz Forester, Manor; Rev. F. W. Radetzky, Art, and E. W. Dechert, Hondo.

The presiding elders who have served this charge still living are: Dr. E. A. Rector and Dr. J. T. Curry of San Antonio, F. L. Batcheler, Dr. L. U. Spellman, Austin; Dr. H. C. Goodenough, San Marcos; Dr. Robt. Moerner, Mason, and Dr. F. B. Buchanan, Uvalde.

The first church was built of poles set up and covered with adobe and with parsonage connected. This served till 1872 when the new building was erected.

LOCAL PREACHER HONORED

The third annual convention of the Texas District of the American Lutheran Church was held at Bartlett, Texas, on May 2-7, 1933.

Rev. W. C. Leibfarth and Mr. Allen Bippert were in attendance as the representatives of St. Paul's Lutheran Church located at Hondo. The Rev. Leibfarth served as English Chaplain of the Convention. Mr. Allen Bippert served on the Committee for Applications and Credentials.

The Convention was held in St. John's Lutheran Church, the Rev. R. C. Albert, pastor. St. John's Church is located on Highway No. 95, one mile north of the city of Bartlett. It is widely known as "The Church by the Side of the Road." Erected in 1932 at the cost of $42,500, it has been called one of the most architecturally attractive and completely equipped churches of its size in the United States.

The Texas District of the American Lutheran Church consists of 137 pastors and 219 congregations, serving approximately 50,000 members. The officers are: Rev. E. A. Sagelich of Seguin, president; Rev. E. G. Knaak, vice-president; Rev. Victor Albert of Galveston, second vice-president; Rev. W. C. Leibfarth of Hondo, secretary; Rev. Rud. Becker of Doss, assistant secretary; and Rev. F. A. Bracher of Fredericksburg, treasurer. The Rev. Geo. W. Scharf of Port Arthur served as secretary previously.

The President's report, the most important report of the Convention, struck a note of praise and thanksgiving in spite of adverse conditions. Four Candidates for the ministry were ordained and placed in charges as follows: Rev. Barnhard Nagel and Rev. Alvin Koehler at Edinburg; Rev. Louis Kramer, Chapel Hill; and Rev. Hugo Flachmeier, Sinton. Rev. C. L. Ramme of Denver, Colo., was placed in charge of the Beacon Hill Lutheran Church, San Antonio. New churches were dedicated in Sandoval and San Antonio. The latter is the beautiful St. John's Lutheran Church located at the corner of Nueva and So. Presa Sts. Seven mission congregations declared themselves self-supporting, as follows: Southton, Rev. H. A. Knebel; San Antonio (Highland Park), Rev. F. A. Neumeister; Harlandale-Helotes, Rev. W. W. Lautbach; Karnes City, Rev. K. Windecker; Victoria, Rev. J. C. Reiger; Port Arthur, Rev. G. W. Scharf and New Orleans (St. Luke's), Rev. C. J. Carpenter.

Timely messages were brought to the convention by representatives of the American Lutheran Church with headquarters in Columbus, Ohio.

Foremost among these was the message of Dr. C. C. Hein, president of the American Lutheran Church, an organization representing more than 2,000,000 Lutheran Christians in the United States. In his sermon of Wednesday morning, he spoke of the sore spots of the modern world, such as the economic tangle, the unequal distribution of wealth and religious apathy. He gave as the solution the necessity of reconciliation with God through the Savior, Jesus Christ. This, he contended, is still the only solution of the ills of the world, adding that it is the task of the Church as the ambassador of Christ and the messenger of the powerful and saving Word of God to make this message effective in all classes of society.

Rev. H. F. Schuh, secretary of Stewardship and Finance of the American Lutheran Church, continued in his message of Thursday night where Dr. Hein left off. Although the Church is suffering great financial difficulties, he spoke in a spirit of confidence and trust in the wonderful ways of divine Providence. He pointed out that God frequently leads His people into apparently hopeless situations from which they are unable to extricate themselves. He added that after He has left them in such a situation until they have done all within their power to help themselves and have turned to Him in true repentance and faith, He will provide a wonderful and even miraculous deliverance. He stressed the point that man is not to look to God for miracles in time of adversity until he has done all within his power to help himself and has turned to God in faith, after which the divine deliverance will surely come.

Dr. C. V. Scheatsley, Secretary of Foreign Missions for India, brought a message to the convention on Friday night. He pointed out that the policy of the American Lutheran Church as regards mission work in India is not to send over as many white missionaries as possible, but as few as possible, and to train and develop a self-sustaining native Church. He reiterated that the simple Gospel message of salvation is still the only hope of deliverance from the deplorable conditions as they exist in that land of superstition, oppression, depression, and spiritual darkness, and that there is a great longing in the hearts of its teeming millions of people for the "good news" which shall bring deliverance.

Other papers delivered to the convention were as follows: "Courtesy and Order in and Among Christian Congregations" by Rev. Rud. Becker of Doss.

"Correlation and Integration of Educational Agencies in the Congregation" by Rev. W. A. Flachmeier of Columbus.

"Student Service Work in Texas" by Rev. H. C. Ziehe of Slaton.

"An Appeal to Encourage the Organization of Lutheran Brotherhoods" by Rev. A. Hartmann of Brenham.

The convention was brought to a close on Sunday, May 7th. Divine services were held in the morning and again in the afternoon. The preachers at those services were as follows: Rev. E. Herber of Lockney, Rev. H. F. Grimm of Orange Grove, Rev. H. F. Ander of Seguin, and Rev. P. Goggin of Brenham.

Pastors and delegates were enthusiastic in their praise of the hospitality of the entertaining congregation and the efficiency with which every need of the convention was met.

We do job printing.

QUIHI NOTES.

Patience (worketh) experience. Rom. 5:4.

Impatience worketh havoc only too often—killing the goose that lays the golden eggs. Many grow impatient with the Lord's activity. They wish to force His hand—and "My grace is sufficient for thee" was the answer to Paul. Without the patience of God, no sinner has a chance. And God is losing out when judged by human impatience. So much the worse for the "human". Experience worketh patience—sometimes; but patience worketh experience—always, namely the observation, the proof and conviction: His will, His method of going about things, of regulating a day's, a life's course, is best. In the long run it will show. But that impatient heart of ours will not run long under His directives. Does it improve things?

Mr. Wm. M. Saathoff, yes, we were going to record that he was doing wonderfully well after his recent operation—so we found him—and that he was ready to go home in the near future. And now he did go home—to the mansions above. And though we know that he is doing well—better than ever here below—yet our heart is unspeakably sad. Only God can comfort the bereaved family and friends. Human efforts avail little.

The rest cure for Mrs. Math. Saathoff at the Medina Hospital seems to have the desired effect, we are glad to report. Let's not forget her in our prayers and best wishes. May the Lord give her another long lease on life.

The instruction for our catechumens—the future confirmands—begins on Saturday, May the 13th, at 9 A. M. The last reminder. Punctuality is a Christian virtue and profitable everywhere. Let's observe it from the very start.

Announcements for Sunday, May 14th:

Service in English at Quhi at 10 A. M. It's Mother's Day—that should tell the story and gauge the number of worshippers. Come, if for no other purpose, then for your mother's sake.

Sunday School and Bible Class at 9 A. M. Service in German at New Fountain at 2 P. M. The thought of the day shall not be forgotten there. Luther League program at 8 P. M. Gratefulness to a dear Mother somewhere, guided in the selection and in the sentiments of the numbers. Come.

ABOUT THE ORCHARD.

Mr. J. J. Cockrell of Mills County says that apples are more profitable than any thing else that can be planted on land. Mr. Cockrell raises many kinds of fruit. It has always been easy for people to say apples do no good in this country but they seem to grow farther south than peaches. Mr. Cockrell likes the Delicious, Yellow Delicious, King David and Ruby Red. He takes good care of his orchard and sells his apples at three dollars per bushel. He can easily raise two hundred bushels per acre, but has to spray his orchard four or five times. Apples grown in Texas are better. They are not over ripe, and the Delicious will get just right for eating right off the trees. Other apples are long keepers. We can raise this fruit and sell it for what the Northern people pay in freight getting it to us and make money. The apple business will not be over done in Texas because there is only a limited amount of land to grow apples on. The man who has apple land owns a real gold mine.

Many people are now wondering if the English walnut can be grown in Texas. The English walnut is now growing fine here at Stephenville. There are some large trees of the Wilson Wonder and many trees of the Mayette and Franquette coming into bearing. The Wilson Wonder is an extremely large nut but the kernel has a dark skin over it so that it would never do for market. However, the Mayette and Franquette are extra quality nuts and are growing and bearing well. Again Texas can score one over another state. The land is cheap and we do not have the swarms of insects they have in California. At no distant day Texas will be growing thousands of bushels of English walnuts and will also grow the improved black walnuts.

This winter has certainly tested the hardiness of all our fruits. After a long hot spell the temperature suddenly dropped to seven below zero. In fact it dropped in half an hour. Many twenty year old Keiffer Pear trees were killed to the ground and some kinds of apricots shared the same fate. The America plum came out whole. Very few were killed, if any. Some other varieties of plums were hurt, especially Burbank. We are looking for a big crop on our America and such kinds as Sapa, Hanska, Compass, the South Haven, Early Rose and Golden Gem peaches were not hurt in tree nor fruit. The Elberta Giant, strange to say, stood the weather to perfection. This giant peach is a big yellow peach seedling of Elberta but different to Elberta in the respect that it has big white blooms. The Haupt berry plants were killed to the ground and the much whopped pineapple pear trees were all killed. They might do well along the coast but we would not give another one of them room in our orchard. The scuppernong grapes came out without getting killed and so did all the other grapes. All our fig plants were killed to the ground but the Harrison will come from the roots and bear a big crop.

We are planting a great many cherry trees. They come into bearing quickly and never get caught by frost. In this country the trees should be headed low so as to expose as little of the bodies to the hot sun as possible. Also the more varieties of cherries planted in a block the better. One cherry tree alone will not bear fruit and this not only holds good with cherries but it is true with many other fruits, including apples. Maybe that is the reason so many people think apples will not do in the south.

J. E. FITZGERALD.

IF I COULD SEE.

By Adda May Hamaker.

If God would only let me see
For one brief moment's space,
Into the realm where loved ones go,
Into that quiet place.

O, just one glance would be so sweet,
To see my child again.
I think that I could better wait
And be more patient then.

If I could hear my darling's voice
Call "mother" once to me,
It would not seem so far away,
Where he has gone to be.

Sometimes I think I almost can
See through the mystic veil,
And yet the shades are closely drawn
Around this earthly pale.

REMEMBRANCE.

By Otto Ernest Rayburn.

Of you my memory will be
As fragrant roses are to me.

The sapphire stars of lovely hue
Are lovelier because of you.

Across the years, your midnight hair
Will trace its beauty everywhere.

The wonder of your smiling eyes
Will be my light to Paradise.

Your hand, so soft and white in mine,
Will make remembering divine.

When withered rose leaves fill the vase
Of hopes long dead, your lovely face

Will stamp itself in portraiture
And Time's exotic touch endure.

FRUIT OF SORROW.

By Louis Miller Andrews.

First fruit:
The tree of sorrow bears a wondrous fruit:
New testament of ancient root.

Great sorrow is the maker of great things:
Love and wisdom, poets and strong wings.

By rose to the cross, by cross to the rose,
Upon the cross the flower grows.

The lovely pearl from wretched oyster's room,
From sickened whale the base of sweet perfume.

The starved musician—music exquisite,
Beauty, wisdom—poet in night's pit.

They fly highest, for the loveliest things,
Who have both joy and sorrow wings.

Last fruit:
The one who seeks escape from misery
Must go the highest way to make him free.

OLD-FASHIONED THINGS.

By Vida B. Butcher.

Old-fashioned things, I love them all!
Fond memories they each recall;
White curtains swaying in the air;
A sleeping cat; a rocking chair;
A braided rug on painted floor;
And morning-glories round the door.
A pot of mint on window sill
The room with fragrance did fill;
The gleaming sunshine through the pane,
And gentle patter of the rain;
The odor sweet of new-turned soil,
And honest tiredness of toil.
Old-fashioned things, I love them all.
I talk of them, when neighbors call;
Dreaming of them, I sit and sew,
Within a nook, at twilight's afterglow.

THE HARVEST.

By Mrs. J. L. Elkin.

The farmer leaned against his plow
And viewed his watered lands,
His fallow wife stood by his side
With bluebells in her hands.
Before them rolled in broad expanse
Green fields of planted ground,
A better start, or firmer stand,
A farmer never found.

Blue blades of waving corn
Tossed flagrant heads on high,
Fine cotton bolls and blooms and stalks
Grew in a field close by.

"We'll make good crops this comin' fall,
When cotton pickin's done,
I'll fix the fence 'n paint the barn,"
Said the thrifty one.

"An' buy more land 'n raise more pigs
Next spring—'n roof our shed."
But the work-spent wife, with far-off look
Just smiled and shook her head.

And then the months went dragging by,
And hot winds blew their way,
No raindrop fell to wet their land,
And drouth laid low their hay.
The ground was parched; their crops were gone;

Grim tragedy left no weed,
The starving rawboned cattle came,
And gnawed on fenceposts for their feed.

But the fallow wife, with far off look,
Leans hard against the door,
"Another plowing and planting," she said
"Oh, God, how many more?"

POISON in Your bowels! Poisons absorbed into the system from souring waste in the bowels, cause that dull, headachy, sluggish, bilious condition; coat the tongue; foul the breath; sap energy, strength and nerve-force. A little of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin will clear up trouble like that, gently, harmlessly, in a hurry. The difference it will make in your feelings over night will prove its merit to you.

Dr. W. B. CALDWELL'S SYRUP PEPSIN A Doctor's Family Laxative

Dr. Caldwell studied constipation for over forty-seven years. This long experience enabled him to make his prescription just what men, women, old people and children need to make their bowels help themselves. Its natural, mild, thorough action and its pleasant taste commend it to everyone. That's why "Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin," as it is called, is the most popular laxative drugstore sell.

Having fifty acres of oats and finding the price very unsatisfactory M. J. Wade, a ranchman of Schleicher county working with County Agent L. E. Sumner, decided to cut half and turn stocker yearling mutations on the balance to fatten them for market. The 25 acres cut thrashed an average of 40 bushels to the acre and netted $59 above the cost of harvesting while the half that was grazed by the sheep netted $169. The sheep went on the oats about 10 days before the grain was ready to cut, no additional cake was fed them, and in 23 days the first shipment was sold at the top price for stock that age.

MRS. JOHN P. LIPPOLD DEAD.

Mrs. Mary Elizabeth Lippold (nee Meliff), wife of John P. Lippold, died at her home here at 5:05 o'clock P. M., Tuesday, May 9, 1933, after a protracted illness. She was buried in Oakwood cemetery Wednesday, May 10th, at 4 o'clock P. M., Rev. F. E. Lancaster of the local Methodist church conducted the services at the Horger Chapel and at the grave. The deceased was born at Evansville, Indiana, February 16, 1864, and came to Texas many years ago. In her young womanhood she was married to John P. Lippold, who with their two grown children, survives her. The children are Mrs. Elita Langford and Meliff Lippold. Two grandsons also survive. The family moved here some twenty-five or more years ago from Lockhart, Texas, and have resided here ever since. There are many friends who join in sympathy for those who mourn, and especially with the aged companion.

Misses Renata and Erna Wurzbach of Cliff were business visitors in Hondo Monday, and while here visited their sister, Miss Tansella Wurzbach, who is one of the members of the graduating class of Hondo High School and who has a prominent part in the class play to be presented to-night.

Dr. John Henry Meyer and Jack Garrison went to San Antonio Saturday night where they attended the senior Ball of Our Lady of the Lake College in the College ballroom, as guests of Misses Lucy Davis of Hondo and Miss Laurinda Rothe of D'Hanis. The affair was formal.

LITTLE MARGARET EMBREY.

After a battle of more than a week for her life, little Margaret Embrey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Embrey, died early Tuesday afternoon, and was buried Wednesday evening, from the family residence. The neighbors and very many friends of the family joined in putting forth every possible effort to stay the pitiless ailment which carried her away, but all in vain.

Most comforting are the words of the dear Saviour who said: Suffer the little children, and forbid them not to come unto me; for such is the Kingdom of Heaven. Truly may one sing the comforting words: "Safe in the arms of Jesus, safe from caroling care; safe from the world's temptations, sin can not harm her there."

Most deeply does every one sympathize with the entire family in their sorrow in giving up their precious baby. "If we knew the baby fingers pressed against the window pane, Would be cold and stiff tomorrow, never trouble us again, Would the black eyes of our darling catch the frown from off our brow, Would the little baby fingers vex us then as they do now?"

"Then scatter seeds of kindness, scatter seeds of kindness for our reaping bye and bye."

In response to information that a postal employe from another county will be sent here on the 15th instant to take charge of the rural route out of Hondo, a petition of protest against giving the place to an outside man by the postoffice authorities at Washington and asking Congressman West to use his influence to have the matter reopened and appointment made from among Medina County citizens, was forwarded from here the first of the week to Washington. Although gotten up hurriedly several hundred signers attached their names to it.

The Fittest Survive

The nations of earth since ages ago Have always prepared to cope with some foe. The fittest survive, but they must be brave. For the future prepare, be frugal and save. The way to prepare for life's battles, too, Is to save up plenty to carry you thru. The man who is thrifty and saves up ahead, The battles of life need not so much dread. OBITUARY.
WM. M. SAATHOFF.

With tragic swiftness the sad news spread from house to house: Wm. M. Saathoff has passed away. It was generally known that he had to submit to an appendix operation at the Medina Hospital. But the operation was very successful, the best of care was administered to him, he was considered out of danger, and his many friends crowded around him congratulating him upon a speedy recovery. Then, while conversing with his wife and his ailing wife at his bedside, the end came fast and sudden, to all appearances through emotion of the heart.

A man, well-beloved and highly esteemed by all who knew him, had lived his Master's last summons, gone to the mansions above. He was born and raised in this country, close and raised in every enterprise in his community, an indefatigable worker, moving forward with sound judgment and unrelenting energy. And his labors were not in vain. A wide circle of friends and acquaintances bore witness to his sterling character and the native abilities which he so readily gave when emergencies arose and were sober, sympathetic helpfulness required. Loved at home with regular devotion, ever found responsible and dependable far and near, a citizen, tried and true, a citizen of clean ambition, a man of sturdy health and lucid mind, with ways exceptionally unassuming and a sunny disposition that won hearts everywhere, little wonder there is a pall of deep and sincere sadness cast upon this whole community. Men of his type can ill be spared; they are few and far between. His memory will be a blessing for future generations. Thank the Lord for what he has been to all; thanks, in particular, for the like faith by which he clung to Saviour and His pardoning grace. He was the deep source of his strength and trust and dependability. Wm. Mink Saathoff, son of Wm. Saathoff, deceased, and Mary Saathoff, nee Bohmfalk, was born near Quihi on March 24, 1882. In early infancy he was consecrated to the Lord through baptism and received his baptismal vows in confirmation, affiliating himself with the Lutheran church. In August 1907 he was married to Miss Emilie Marie Finger, now the widow deeply mourning his untimely death. His ambition was that of a stockman and he was eminently successful, residing near Hondo, later near Medina, and for the last 12 years, in his present beautiful home near Quihi. For many years he had been highly valued and efficient vestrals of the Bethlehem Lutheran church. At the time of his death he was a trustee of the Verdina school. Three children blessed this union: Frieda (Mrs. Arthur Schulte), Eline and Pauline, now in sorrow.

Despite many hardships and jolts and exposures in life, Mr. Saathoff enjoyed excellent health, till appendix troubles started. On May 3rd he was operated at the Medina Hospital, and things ran normally, promising a speedy cure till he suddenly succumbed on May 8th, about 3 P. M.

Those mourning his demise are his wife and children, his son-in-law and one grandchild, Arthur Wilfred, his mother, Mrs. Mary Saathoff; his brothers: Henry, Oscar, Jessie, Ben and Harry; his sisters: Mrs. Louise Mumme of Hondo, Mrs. Anton Balzen, Mrs. Carl Christensen, Mrs. Chas. Rich, Mrs. Alfreca Cole, all of San Antonio. His friends are almost beyond number. We sorrow with them.

Pall-bearers were John Britsch, Alfred Brucks, Louis H. Heyen, Robert Riff, Aug. Bohmfalk and August Brucks.

The funeral rites were held at the Horder Funeral Home at 3 P. M. on Tuesday, May 9, with interment at the new Quihi Cemetery, Rev. C. Weeber of the Quihi Lutheran church officiating.

Our comfort: Chrit says: Because I live, ye shall live also. John 14:19.

CONCERT INAGURATES MUSIC WEEK, O. L. L.

Music Week at Our Lady of the Lake College opened with an elaborate concert by the college orchestra on Sunday evening, May 7, in the college auditorium. Besides an entire Haydn symphony artistically played by full orchestra, other numbers deserving of special mention were a violin concerto by Margaret Ann Knopp, ten years of age, accompanied by Evelyn Knopp, pianist; a concerto by Mary Louise Walliser, with orchestral accompaniment, and "Hungarian March" by full orchestra. —Southern Messenger.

MOTHER.

By E. S. Rieber.

Women are busy in politics,
Some can smoke and some will drink.
We see them in the shops all day,
But a Mother is best I think.

A Mother in a home is a hero,
She rears the humble and the great.
She makes the world as it is,
It is she who toils with her mate.

We have heroes in wars and disasters,
And heroes in fires and at sea,
But she who cares for the infant
Is the hero for you and for me.

Plenty of Hot Water...

ALL THE TIME

costs only a few
PENNIES A DAY

The Gas Automatic Storage Water Heater keeps a large supply of hot water always ready for every purpose.

You only open the tap. The heater does the work. It lights automatically when the hot water is withdrawn from the tank, and extinguishes itself when the water has become heated to the proper temperature. The heavy insulation around the tank not only keeps the water hot for hours but prevents waste of water or fuel.

The most interesting feature of this wonderful service is the cost—only a few pennies per day. Visit your dealer or your gas company. See these wonderful heaters. Order yours installed at once.

BONDS SHOULD BE ESCHEWED.

This paper is opposed to any and all kinds of bond issues by any and all agencies at the present time.

There are times when bond issues for permanent and needed improvements which set in motion machinery that will serve humanity and at the same time earn income to pay back the principal and interest are amply justified.

But to issue bonds for any other purpose or that can not be reasonably expected to earn back in service at least their cost is to visit the sins of the fathers upon their children by passing the consequences of the follies and the failures of today onto those who follow after us tomorrow.

The borrower must ever be the servant to the lender; to bond the future beyond our own expectation to live and pay is to doom unborn children to servitude and should not be tolerated by men who want to have the respect and good opinion of their posterity.

Furthermore, not the least of the causes contributing to the present economic chaos is the over-indulgence in the sport of issuing bonds.

We seriously doubt if there can be any real return of normal prosperity until there is a right-about face and the policy greatly curtailed or wholly abandoned.

Chief among the reasons for the flood of bond issues that has engulfed us is that monied men, staggering under the burdens of constantly increasing taxes, found that by investing their money in non-taxable bonds they insured their own profits, avoided taxes and shunted the burdens both of supporting the government itself and of keeping up interest payments on their own notes, held by them against a borrowing government, off onto the less fortunate tax-payers.

Finding how easy this can be done, high financiers have practically cornered the supply of actual money, converted it into a sort of revolving fund and are buying bonds after bonds with the same cash over and over again to the utter enslavement of the people.

This money, withdrawn from its legitimate use of promoting productive enterprise through normal, legitimate loans on an interest rate that renders its use in such purpose profitable, has stifled enterprise, stopped industry and filled the country with unemployed.

Following this, profitable business has done a fade-out from the scene and bankruptcy, like the proud villain, struts across the stage of affairs spreading ruin and terror every where.

No, the remedy does not lie, as some seem to think, in taxing the government's bonds or the income derived from them by their holders; being the lenders and, therefore, the dictators of the terms thereof, they would merely raise the rate of interest to cover the cost of the tax and we would be worse off than at present on that score.

Neither does the remedy, as is being proposed in Texas, lie in issuing still more bonds to furnish a dole to those whose labor is bringing no returns by way of production of life's essentials into existence and when the funds are once spent, like a gambler's losses, are gone forever, and must be paid by future generations, a legacy of slavery entailed upon unborn children by the weakness, stupidities and follies of a generation of progenitors incapable of caring for the needs of the present moment in the midst of plenty and with resources as yet scarcely touched!

What stupendous folly!

Relief does not lie in that kind of an "untrod path"!

Relief lies in shaking off the shackles of slavery to bond-holders; reduction in the costs of government until taxes no longer absorb all the profits of industry and destroy all initiative and aggressiveness in the people; and in supplying a national currency direct to the people without paying interest tribute to any favored class and in sufficient volume to carry on the business of the country.

The man or set of men who advocate further bond issues at this time should be scorned as public enemies and scourged into silence by the whips of an outraged public opinion.

Our friends who are advocating a Farmers' Strike at this time are warned in all seriousness and all friendliness that they are not playing with dynamite; worse, they are jimmying at the very hinges of the gates of hell! The men who make the price of your products are the last ones you can reach by making food scarce and to reach them you must starve the multitude between you and them, millions of whom are already too poor to buy at any price. Begin to starve them and instead of coming to you with gold and silver to buy at your price, they will come swarming across your countryside with murder in their hearts and fire brands in their hands to lay waste your substance. The descendants of men who threw the British tea into Boston Harbor, in their descent, may have degenerated a long way—they have become a strangely docile folk—but do not arouse them in the wrong way. There must be a better way of redress for our ills than starving the innocent and the helpless!

Misplaced sympathy often does more harm than good. Likewise, the effort to get the few out of a jam may react to the hurt of the many. For instance, the well-meant act of the Texas Legislature recently passed in an effort to save mortgaged property from foreclosure at a loss, merely transfers the loss, whatever it may be, from the maker of the mortgage to the holder of the same. Since the holder of the mortgage is the man who furnishes the money and since money can dictate its own terms the effect will be to make the terms of all future mortgages all the more grinding on all borrowers. The borrower can not escape eventually paying all the risks involved in whatever loans he secures.

In times of storm and stress the experienced and the wise wayfarer steers his course by strict observance of the proven land-marks. In these times of uncertainty the path of safety in governmental affairs lies not in new and untried paths but in a strict and undeviating adherence to the course marked by the time-tested principles of Democracy.

THAT SILVER LINING.

"Every cloud has a silver lining"!

That trite old saying has its application to the depression clouds that hang like a sinister threat today over a perplexed and frightened world that trembles in fear for its civilization.

Depression is world-wide.

Old and long accepted standards are being threatened or bodily discarded and unless a stop is made to the headlong plunge along "new and untried paths" chaos and wide-spread ruin must inevitably follow upon the heels of repudiation, collapse and failure!

Incident of course but largely entering into the causes of the world's present plight, is the enormous war debts and the inability of the people to create with their labor enough wealth to at the same time survive and pay.

Threatened repudiation, with its attendant ruin of the creditor and the destruction of the moral and business stamina of the repudiators, like a fell and wide-spread disease, is paralyzing the productive energies of the people the world over and the virus of the disease is cropping out, like festering ulcers, in such manifestations as forced efforts to interfere with execution of the terms of contracts openly entered into and legislative meddling with private agreements.

But "there is a silver lining to every cloud," and this depression cloud is no exception.

The only suggestion for dealing with the payment of these war debts thus far made, since the senseless blunder of creating them in the first place was made, that has not been equally as foolish as the first mistake, is the proposition incorporated in a recent act of Congress to have the United States accept payment in silver bullion.

With the exception of the discovery of a new and easily accessible gold field, nothing could bring more cheering hope to humanity or start the wheels of returning prosperity to turning more rapidly all over the world.

Mines now idle throughout the world would become bee-hives of activity over night, wealth that now lies dormant and useless would begin to pour out of the bowels of the earth to bless humanity, labor would become active—not in collecting and dissipating a dole at the expense of over-burdened taxpayers,—leaving both poorer in the bargain,—but active in productive effort.

Demand for the products of the factory and the farm would receive an immediate stimulus that would give to them naturally—and in the only effective way (through the stimulus of demand) it can ever come—that "restoration of profitable prices" so sorely needed and about which so much is said and nothing sensible as yet is done.

And transportation would again come into its own through increased demand for its service in moving men and materials and cease to be a mendicant begging a dole at the hands of hoarding gold-holders to maintain the life of a system already dead in the matter of profitable service.

Business in every line, feeling the stimulus, would catch the stride with an active industry and a returned prosperity would become an active, pulsating reality where now is dullness, despair and death.

But to make this dream come true there must be no deleted acts along the moving vista of the whole scene.

This silver ore is as useful in the darkness of its native unexplored mine as it would be in refined bars locked up in the vaults of greedy wealth out of the reach of human hands that would use it.

The government should coin into convenient circulating media of full legal tender every ounce it can secure and pay it out for its current expenses, instead of being a borrower at the marts of the money lending Shylocks of the financial centers as it is today.

Relieved of the threat of further unconscionable bond issues and the confiscatory taxes their interest and final payment hangs, like a sword of Damocles, over the head of industry, a new hope would animate endeavor in every line and there would be an easing up in the tax-payers' strike that is every day assuming larger proportions and threatening every branch of our government, from the smallest school district to the nation itself, with early and complete collapse.

Deprived of the glittering prospect of more tax-free bonds and still more bonds in which entrenched wealth is seeking to invest over and over again, in an endless chain, its hoarded gold, so as to escape payment of its own just share of taxes and at the same time wield stronger chains of financial slavery on those who can not escape their taxes, these "malefactors of great wealth" will begin to seek investments in productive enterprises which will make them contributors to the world's material wealth instead of, as now, being leeches fattening on the life-blood of the toilers.

Instead of forcing default in payment to us of the war debts owed us by foreign nations, inevitable and inescapable under present conditions, and fixing the stigma of repudiation upon a proud but now helpless people jealous of their reputations for integrity, the acceptance of payment in silver would open wide the door to an honorable way out of their extremity, displace their sullen but growing hatred of us with good feeling, and stimulate a wider commerce and better understanding among all the peoples of the world.

These vast possibilities for restoration of prosperity at home, the establishing of hope the world over, and the maintenance of peace every where are potentialities that lie within the power of President Roosevelt's hand to grasp if he will but use the authority that is his to cut loose from the thralldom of the money lenders and meet the emergency with the use of the world's supply of silver.

Will he use it as befits the trust a great free people have placed in him?

Or will he prove but the puppet of the master minds of malefactors of great wealth?

May the silver lining to our cloud prove the returning showers of prosperity and happiness to a dry despairing and dying desert of departing hopes and failing energies!

A lot of crime against Democratic faith is being perpetrated in the name of "balancing the budget."

MY WRINKLED MOTHER.

By Michael D'Andrea.

I love you, mother of mine;
Mother, I love you, heart and soul,
And, O, you, always find the time
When pain is here, to make me whole.

You carry on and bring anew
God's richest blessings, every day.
There's not a braver soul than you;
You have no fear, you're always gay.

O, mother dear, I love you so!
I know I'm safe when you are near.
I long to be where'er you go;
Because with you I have no fear.

Though wrinkled is your care-
worn brow,
I still can see great beauty there;
Mother, today you seem some how,
Just like a rose; but yet more fair.

WIND SONGS.

By Mary O. Davis.

The wind
Has wooed me over long
With many a vagrant air
From fields and lanes
And rolling hills.
It pleaded,
Impetuous and sweet,
With my unyielding heart—
Or it rocked my soul
With passionate force
As it bent the trees
To earth,
Shouting a song of triumph!

But there came a day
When the wind
Grew lonely—a little sad—
And came to rest
In a twisted pine
Where it sang
With muted rhyme.

Now I must up
And follow
The wind
And make
That little song mine!

PETITION.
(Kyrielle)

By Anton Romatka.

Although men sink from earth to heil,
Look down from Heaven's citadel,
While sinners chant of one accord
Kyrielle, have mercy Lord!

We humbly crave deliverance
From vice and crime's inheritance,
The raketees unboly horde;
Kyrielle, have mercy Lord!

Extend your helping Father-hand
To those enslaved in Mammon-land:
Make each of them your special ward,
Kyrielle, have mercy Lord!

We gladly kiss affliction's rod,
But hope it is your will, oh God,
To give us Heaven's high reward,
Kyrielle, have mercy Lord!

LEAVING THE OLD HOME.

By Ethel Osborn Hill.

Her dim old eyes take one last look around;
Her toil-worn hands, the last time, turn the knob;
The kitchen door swings shut with mournful sound—
Or was it just the echo of a sob?

She stands a moment on the sagging porch
And gazes at a broken, old, arm-chair;
With wistful touch she smooths the ancient wood—
In memory still she sees him sitting there.

The grape vine that he planted long ago,
The trees he tended and the walks he made,
Each mean to her some hour of loving toil—
Though gone, these poignant memories cannot fade.

Through long, lean years they worked and saved for this,
Their old-age home; it was their hope and pride.
Now, past her three-score years and ten, alone,
Even this poor shelter is to her denied.

"Come, we must go," they say: "It's getting late."
And silently she turns the bent old key.
But as they roll away she turns to look
At something which the others cannot see.

TO A VERY OLD LADY.

By Maysie Tuley Klein.

Removed from worldly worry
and care,
Her eyes have a soft and far-away stare
As she sits in a little old rock-ing chair,
Rocking to,
Rocking fro.

She shows no pleasure or dismay
Over any concern of the present day;
Just a Whistler portrait rocking
away,
Rocking to,
Rocking fro.

For tomorrow she has neither joy
nor fear;
We see her daily, yet she is not here:
She lives in the days of her yes-
teryear—
Rocking to,
Rocking fro.

'Twas covered o'er with velvet
green
Where merry sunbeams dance,
'Twas also set with flowers fair,
Their fragrance mildly sweet,
Was wafted on the morning
breeze,
To make God's world complete

And here and there a little bird,
Amid the cheerful scene,
Proclaimed that all was happiness,
Out where the fields are green.
O, what could be more real, sublime,
What could my soul inhance
More than this wide, wide prairie.
Just God's own great expanse!

A LOVE-STORM.

By Elizabeth Giles Winn.

My dear, you made me cry:
And still I wonder why
I live to weep and sigh—
I wish that I could die.

Tomorrow's sun will shine,
And you will call me thine:
Then mystery will clear,
And I shall hold you dear.

Then heaven will be near
To me, who now can hear
You say: "I do not care,"
As I reflect and stare.

The door-bell rings, my dear:
(Perhaps a note of cheer).
And now I am content
To learn love's storm is spent.

Comes the dawning
Of Morning's glorious light
Night, sable queen of Darkness, must Hold reign!

The senior girls of St. Anthony's School spent Tuesday in San Antonio.

Miss Marcella Ney underwent a tonsil operation at Medina Hospital, Hondo, on Monday.

D'HANIS BOY WEDS.

Mr. William Rohrbach, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Rohrbach of this place, was married to Miss Josephine Dugosh of San Antonio in Sacred Heart Church of that city on Tuesday morning, May 9th. They will make their home in San Antonio, where the young man is employed.

Among the guests who attended the wedding from here were Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Rohrbach and children, Tyrus, Mrs. Louis Rieber, Mrs. Ed. Keller, Mrs. Louis Carle, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rohrbach and children, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Rohrbach and children, Misses Clara Fillinger, Evelyn Koch, Catherine Halliday, Messrs. August Koch, Raymond Nester, Joe Fillinger and Maurice Koch.

BRIDGE CLUB.

The members of the Club and a number of friends were delightfully entertained last Wednesday afternoon with Miss Grace Zinsmeyer as hostess. Lovely roses, phlox and corn flowers were used as decorations in the bridge rooms. Prizes for high scores were awarded Mrs. M. J. Finger and Mrs. Chas. Finger, member and guest respectively. Mrs. Reilly Carle received low score prize and Mrs. E. A. Rothe drew high for consolation.

Delicious pecan pie and iced tea were served to the following members and guests: Mesdames E. A. Rothe, Hy. Nehr, Ed. Finger, Henry Biry, M. J. Finger, Ferd. Koch, Hy. Muennink, M. A. Zinsmeyer, A. M. Rath, Chas. Finger, John Zinsmeyer, Reilly Carle and Alf. Zinsmeyer, and Misses Josie and Lucy Rothe, Cornelia Koch, Lorene Zinsmeyer, Sara Rothe and the hostess.

JUNIOR-SENIOR PARTY.

The members of the graduating class of St. Anthony's High School were honored by the Juniors, Irene Poerner, Irene Carle, Francis and Lawrence Carle, when they were entertained with a party at the Koch Hall on Thursday evening, May 4. Seven tables were filled with players for the games of "cootie" in which Miss E. H. Rothe, with high tally, won a box of attractive stationery. The tallies were handpainted in colors of the rainbow, these hues being repeated in other appointments. The winners of fortunes from "millionaires" were Isabel Zerr, Thomas Finger and Casper Rohrbach. Much enjoyment was afforded by the "V-Rush", which was followed by the "Seniors' Bouquet". In this feature of the entertainment only the Seniors participated, disclosing their wishes for the future by their choice of flowers in answering a questionnaire. Miss Josie Rothe directed the games.

Following the contests, the host served delicious macaroons, cookies and punch. Plate favors were pretty mint boxes that further carried out the color scheme.

The members of the class honored with this party were Misses Lorine Zinsmeyer, Veron Finger, Bernice Carle, Armine Fohn, and Messrs. Francis Koch, Casper Rohrbach and Mervin Poerner. Other guests not mentioned above were Misses Hazel Koch, Alice Rohrbach, Stella Finger, Sarah Koch, Leona Poerner, Ursie Lee Rock, Evelyn Graham, Lillian rohn, and Laurinda Braden; Messrs. Charles Rieber, James Finger, Raymond Nester, Bill Zerr, Charles Tondre, David Albrecht, Herman Fohn, Howard Rothe, Hilmar J. Koch, Jacob Weyand, Alvin Brown, and Edward Finger.

D'HANIS PIRATES SHOW FINE FORM.

The D'Hanis Pirates have showed no indication of letting up on the terrific pace they have been setting since the opening of the season. Sunday they journeyed to La Pryor and handed them a 20 to 6 defeat. This was the seventh straight victory without a single defeat. The Pirates have scored 68 runs to their opponents' 21. Only one time this season was an opposing team in the lead at any stage of the game.

In Sunday's game, Nester, D'Hanis pitcher, coasted along easily under the big lead and let up in the later stages of the game. Frank Koch and Joe Finger were the batting leaders, each bagging four hits and a walk. The Pirates amassed a total of 22 hits, four walks and one hit batsman. Next Sunday the Pirates meet the LaCoste Boosters on the local grounds.

CLASS PLAY.

The Senior Class of the D'Hanis High School presented "Spooky Tavern", a three act mystery comedy, in the High School auditorium, Friday evening, May 5. The play was well acted before an appreciative audience whose interest was held until the end, which involved a surprise climax.

The entertainment was opened with several enjoyable songs rendered by the Hondo Baby Giant Quartet composed of B. C. and Frank Kucker, Herbert Buss and Jack Bradley, accompanied by Miss Dorothy Zerr.

The students taking part in the play were Isabel Zerr, Ruby Butts, Ursie Lee Rock, Lucille Reitzler, Carolyn Nester, Charles Tondre, Clarence Lins, Clifton Mills, Verner and Marvin Koch, and Ivan Nester. The directors were Mr. Scott and Miss Carrie Langfield.

Graduation of tenth grade pupils will take place on Friday, May 19.

COMMUNITY CLUB INVITES FATHERS.

The St. Anthony's Community Club will have its regular meeting Friday night, May 12, and invites all members of the community especially fathers, to attend. There will be free entertainment and refreshments. MRS. HENRY BIRY, President.

GRADUATES, WHAT NEXT?

You might ask yourself the question, "WHAT CAN I DO?" that would justify a business man in giving me a nice office position and paying me a good salary. Now, ask yourself these questions: Can I write accurately and neatly sixty words per minute on the typewriter? Can I take dictation at one hundred and twenty words per minute? Can I take court testimony at one hundred and seventy-five words per minute? Do I know the law pertaining to negotiable papers? Do I know how to draw up commercial instruments? Do I know how to keep books? Can I keep the books of a large corporation? Can I use a bank or a commercial posting machine? Do I understand credits and collections or re-financing? Do I understand money and banking? Can I write a good advertisement? Can I make out an income tax statement? Do I understand cost accounting? We could suggest to you many more questions just as important as these. You are not going to be employed at a good salary unless you can answer these questions and many more to the satisfaction of the experienced successful business man. The business man must of necessity in building his business back after the recent depression, employ the best trained young men and women, those who will make him a profit on their services.

From three to five months spent in Byrne College will equip you for a good position where there is room for advancement and opportunity for investment of your earnings as you advance your knowledge of the business in which you are employed. The merchant is stocking his shelves with the best goods he can buy for the money and of necessity must use the same policy in buying service for his office.

Young friend, you may at first think it impossible for you to get a business education at this time but if you are really determined you can get it now and have a good position this Fall, come to our office and let's talk this matter over, or if you can't come, write. Let us tell you about our special prices and easy payment plan, and how we provide spare time work to earn board and room. See the nice places we secure for our students who wish to pay board and room at from $3.80 to $5.00 per week. Learn how we have helped many boys and girls get on the pay roll, see our wonderful student body of fine young men and women. See a list of the positions we have filled in the past few days.

Under our individual advancement plan, you may enter at any time, but the earlier you enroll the sooner you will be placed on the pay roll. For particulars fill in and mail.

CARD OF THANKS.

We take this means of extending our heartfelt thanks to our neighbors and friends for their many acts of kindness to us and expressions of sympathy in our sorrow and loss of our beloved husband and father, Willie M. Saathoff. We wish especially to thank Rev. Weeber for the beautiful and consoling funeral service and members of the Lutheran choir for their assistance at the service. We especially appreciate the many beautiful floral offerings.

Gratefully yours,
MRS. WILLIE M. SAATHOFF
And CHILDREN.

ARE WE GOING TO RENEG?

The National Democratic Campaign Committee is in debt. This indebtedness amounts to approximately 10c each for each vote polled at the last election. The voters must pay this or their party will default in its financial obligations. It is not expected that each voter should pay a dime—although this would settle the debt—or that any one must limit the amount they contribute. The 10c prorata is merely used as a basis for an equitable apportionment of the debt among the voters.

On the basis thus fixed Medina County's apportionment is as follows:

Precinct	Amount due	Paid
1 N. Hondo	$26.20	$.20
2 Quihi	13.20
3 Dunlay	9.00
4 Verdina	3.00
5 Riomedina	13.10
6 Castroville	39.90
7 D'Hanis	24.50
8 Haas	2.80
9 Natalia	9.30
10 E. Devine	8.20
11 Black Creek	4.40
12 Yancey	8.40
13 Maverick	3.60
14 Biry	6.60
15 LaCoste	16.50
16 S. Hondo	30.30
17 Upper Hondo	2.30
18 Eistone	4.00
19 W. Devine	22.90
20 Mico	3.50

Total $251.70 $.20
Although this matter has been twice mentioned before in these columns it will be observed that little response has been made to the appeal.

Your County Chairman stands ready to receipt for money received on this account and forward it to the proper authorities. More than that he cannot do. As a Democrat, you do something.

FLETCHER DAVIS,
County Chairman,

STEAM-PRESSURE CANNER BEST FOR LOW-ACID FOODS.

Fresh evidence in favor of the steam pressure canner for foods low in acidity is presented by the Bureau of Home Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture after examining more than 4,000 containers of foods canned in its experimental laboratories. These jars and cans included many of the low-acid foods that are commonly canned at home—meats, fish, and vegetables other than tomatoes. They represent 10 years of experimental work in home canning.

Since meats, fish, and corn, beans, peas, and other vegetables, except tomatoes, give most trouble in home canning the department ran many series of comparative tests with these foods. Repeatedly it tried out the water-bath method with both continuous and intermittent periods of processing, and again and again the high percentage of spoilage showed this method wasteful and dangerous for nonacid foods.

The waterbath method produces a temperature about equal to that of boiling water (around 212° F.), but no higher. This is not high enough to kill in a reasonable time the bacteria that cause spoilage in these nonacid foods.

The steam-pressure method, however, quickly runs the temperature in the containers up to 240° or 250° F. These high temperatures destroy the harmful bacteria in a short time. Containers processed in the steam-pressure canner according to directions recommended by the bureau for meats and nonacid vegetables showed only 2 per cent spoilage.

As a matter of economy, therefore, as well as a precaution against food spoilage, the bureau recommends using the steam-pressure method when canning meats and nonacid vegetables at home.

FROST RESISTANCE OF CITRUS ROOT-STOCKS VARIES.

Remarkable cold resistance was shown the past winter by several of the 13 citrus root-stocks now under test at the Winter Garden Experiment Station. Trifoliata, Cunningham citrange, Morton citrange, 45019B citrange, Rustic citrange, Rusk citrange, Thomasville citrange, Changsha orange and Ichang lemon were comparatively uninjured. Other stocks were considerably injured or were frozen to the ground. In the order of their cold resistance they are: 15137 citrange, Citradia, Kansu orange, Sour orange, Meyer lemon, Savage citrange, Glen citrange, Eustis limequat, Calamondin.

These notes are of particular interest in considering the value of these stocks for citrus in the Winter Garden. Trifoliata has been used for many years as a citrus stock, especially for Satsumas and Kumquats. The Cunningham citrange has given excellent results as a stock for Satsuma so far. Tests are planned with oranges as soon as possible.

Just 46 Pounds of Fat Gone

FEELS 20 YEARS YOUNGER.

"I surely can recommend Kruschen Salts. I reduced from 156 to 110 lbs., my natural weight and I feel 20 years younger. 'A pinch a day, keeps the fat away.'" Mrs. Vale Walter, Seattle, Washington (Dec. 30, 1932).

Once a day take Kruschen Salts—one half teaspoonful in a glass of hot water first thing every morning. Besides losing ugly fat SAFELY you'll gain in health and physical attractiveness—constipation, gas and acidity will cease to bother—you'll feel younger—more active—full of ambition—clear skin—sparkling eyes.

A jar that lasts 4 weeks costs but a trifle at W. H. WINDROW's or any drugstore in the world—but demand and get Kruschen and if one bottle doesn't joyfully satisfy you—money back. Mail orders filled.

MOTHER'S DAY DANCE

At Castroville, Sunday, May 14th

RALPH WEBSTER And His Orchestra

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED

Admission: Cents. 50c; Ladies 25c

GAMBLES GIRL'S LIFE TO AVERAGE FATHER'S DEATH.

George Raft, Nancy Carroll, Roscoe Karns, Lew Cody and Gregory Ratoff play leading roles in "Under-Cover Man", drama centering around a big-time crook who gambles with his own life and the life of the girl he loves to hunt down the slayer of his father. "Under-Cover Man" has been booked for the Colonial Theatre where it will open next Friday.

Raft, sensational young star who has risen through roles in "Madame Racketeer", "Scar-face", and "Night After Night" to popularity unusual even for a player of long standing, has the most important role in the picture. He is a figure from the upper crust of the underworld, a hard hombre who plays Wall Street and the Gold Coast for single coups of hundreds of thousands.

Wehn his father, a "fence" for stolen bonds, is killed, Raft decides he must personally track down the murderer. He goes to police headquarters, offers to become an undercover man—a stool pigeon, who can expect no help either from police or fellow-crooks if the latter find out his connections. Then, with Miss Carroll, whose brother, a bond-runner on Wall Street, has been killed by the same gang, he sets out to accomplish his task.

MEN WANTED.

WANTED—Reliable men 25 to 50 to supply established demand for Rawleigh Products in West Bexar county; also part of city of San Antonio. Other good localities available. Company furnishes everything but the car. Good profits for hustlers. Write or see Tom B. Holloway, Hondo, Texas.

TAKEN-UP.

For several months a Polled Hereford cow, branded with a reversed Z on right side and tip of left ear nipped off, has been in my pasture. She is about four years old and has a calf. Owner will please prove property and take her away.

Mrs. Joe Breiten.

The demonstration poultry flock of Mrs. F. H. Shultz in Wharton county last year paid for all the groceries, some of the clothing, seed for the farm, and left $6 per month for other purposes, she has reported to Miss Alleen Burton, home demonstration agent. From a flock of 100 hens and from chicks raised Mrs. Shultz sold $228.57 worth of eggs, fryers and cull hens with an actual cash outlay of $35. Her laying flock ration consisted of corn or maize and skim milk. Two thirds of her income was from fryers. Worm infestations, which she learned to control by giving individual capsules, cut egg production below the Extension Service standard during two months.
